CARRANZA AID TO RED REVOLT IN U.S. SHOWN

Start of Uprising Was Proposed in Big Strikes.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—Evidence that radicals in Mexico, with the support of President Carranza, plotted to begin a revolution in the United States and to seize the border states, is contained in the memorandum presented to President Wilson by Senator James of New Mexico, chairman of the Mexican relations subcommittee investigating the Mexican situation.

Plan for the proposed revolution was obtained from the minutes of a meeting last Oct. 15 in Mexico City Lodge Twenty-three, an organization of extreme agitators and members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The Mexican president is linked with it not through correspondence, in which he recommends three men for consideration because of their connection with "the plan which they have put into practice in the state of Chihuahua."

These men, the committee states, were identified as active agents of Carranza's Twenty-threes.

"Will Begin by Strikes."

Minutes of the meeting of the radicals declare "there appeared three Negroes, two Americans and one Mexican, who had arrived from the United States and who claimed that 'the Soviet' would be able at the beginning of November (that is, November, 1919) to call a general strike of all miners and metal workers in the United States; that they have $3,000,000 available in that country, where they will be able to seize one western and two Atlantic ports; that a large number of American soldiers were preparing to side with them, and that they proposed to establish a capital of a second government of the United States in the state of Colorado; that such a revolution was successful in the other states which were acquired by the United States under the treaty of 1917 would be returned to Mexico."

Show Letters of Carranza.

The three men referred to are the same, the memorandum states, as those mentioned by Carranza in letters of which the committee has obtained photostatic copies. The first of these letters, dated June 4, and addressed to General Aguirre Berlanga, Mexican minister of the interior, says:

"Since Linea Caballe, bearer of this note, is the person who, in company with two friends, will bring to you the manifesto and the plan which they propose to put into practice in the state of Tamaulipas. This plan being very favorable for Mexico, please add them in every way and give the necessary instructions in the frontier states."

The second letter, dated Aug. 19, and addressed to the same official, follows:

"The present letter will be delivered to you by Mr. Juan N. Garcia and the two friends from Texas and, in accordance with our conversations, we give them the guarantees they wish, as well as the pecuniary assistance they may desire."

Other Plotting Proved.

In addition to these plots, the memorandum shows these facts:

"That the Mexican government now is engaged in secret negotiations with Russia of a treaty of great advantage to Mexico."

That while following a clearly defined policy of discriminating against the United States and Britain, the Carranza government intends to give its decided support to German business men in Mexico.

That Carranza has published a "blue book" to impress upon Latin-American nations his success in combating the American policy toward Mexico.

That Carranza has stopped the operations of American oil companies during the last few days, in defiance of repeated warnings of the American government.

Shows Part of Germany.

Senator Fall's comment on the plan of revolution disclosed, is that it will appear "preposterous, ridiculous, and so fantastic as if it failed to deserve little attention were not for the fact that it is almost as essential to the plan of San Francisco as the only judicial tribunal upon which the question declared have been backed or supported by armed forces through a state as by V. Carranza in 1915; and

LIQUOR MOURNER GRIEVES NO MORE; COURT IS CAUSE

Sees Sudden Wrecks Retrieve Selves as John B. Goez.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

A wealthy retired business man of Evanston motored to the city with Judge Victor P. Arnold a few days ago. During their conversation he remarked: "I think it has come to a pretty pass when a man who knows how to drink and who likes a little liquor, now and then, can't get it. Seems to me the government is going a long way in taking a man's right to drink away from him. I don't feel any too kindly about it."

"You don't?" the judge asked him. "Well, what are you going to do this morning?"

"Nothing special."

"Come with me and I'll wager you won't mention again the inconvenience of not being able to get a drink. If you once see the good prohibition brings to those who haven't your strength of character, I think you will change your song."

A Case of Bad Liquor.

The court opened that morning with the case of the Means family. The mother and father, when the Juvenile court found them nine months ago, were addicted to drink and their children were so undernourished it was necessary to give them hospital care. The parents seemingly did not care what became of them. Last Christmas, when the family was nearly starved, the father and mother were intoxicated all day and the children were crying and miserable.

As Newmark turned to leave three young men appeared in the front doorway. "Back up—and throw up your hands," the leader said. And behind the partition in the rear of the store they herded the owners and customers.

The trio rifled both diamond safes and the window, taking only the most valuable gems, together with the $2,000 cash in the cash drawer. The loot was poured into a black sack.

After warning their victims to make no outcry for five minutes, the robbers walked calmly out.

Mother Redeemed.

Another case was that of a mother whose husband had abandoned her and taken their child because the home was unfit. Once returned to her senses, the woman tried to get back the happiness she had lost through liquor. She begged her husband to take her home, to let her have the baby. He had only to see her and to listen.

It took him back, the husband said, to the time when they were first married, and he was so surprised and happy that they decided, instead of quarreling over the child, to have a return Christmas and all went home together.

There were others.

When the Evanstonian went home with Judge Arnold that evening, he actually shed a tear or two.

"You win—I'll never mention it again," he told the judge.

Famine Still Perils U. S.

If the coal strike ends tomorrow, the government will provide, through its acceptance by the miners of President Wilson's peace terms, the nation will be by no means out of dangers, so far as fuel is concerned.

Although the miners may return to work within a few days, incalculable damage already has been done.

Wilson Hopes for Peace

Hope for the settlement of the controversy between the miners, the operators, and the government was expressed in a formal statement issued today by the White House.

The statement follows:

"It is hoped that there will be a settlement on Tuesday afternoon of the controversy between the miners, the operators, and the government, through the acceptance by the miners of the plan for a definite settlement proposed by the president, which proposal was submitted to Acting President Davis by the mining attorney, General Palmer Saturday night."

Railroad curtailment is to be continued for some time, officials stated. None of the orders cutting off passenger trains will be immediately rescinded.

Delay to Full Schedules.

Gradually passenger train service will be restored, but there will be no blanket order, as soon as the strike is over.

The increased coal supply for Chicago and the midwest, which the administration promised Saturday, will not be interfered with if the strike is settled. The orders for 600 additional cars a day for Illinois are being carried out. The extra carloads should begin to reach Chicago by Wednesday. With Illinois mines operating the eastern shipments can be reduced a little later, but there will be need for such shipments for at least two weeks.

Hundreds of offices and stores are able to last two to three days without using Alaska, Kentucky, Kansas, or display at 200 W. Madison.—Advertisement.

HEALTH PERILED IN COLD OFFICES, WORKERS CHARGE

Plan Protest on Work by Candle Light After Hours.

Charges that certain offices are complying with the rules conserving coal and heat at the peril of their employees' health probably will be laid before Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson today. This became known yesterday when complaints that stenographers were compelled to work by candle light in a building in which the heat had been turned off were laid before Chairman T. W. Proctor of the regional coal committee.

Mr. Proctor said: "We have no jurisdiction in the case. It does seem, however, that since one of the reasons restrictions have been imposed is to prevent hardships to employees, nothing should be done to peril the general health of those who work for a living. We cannot rule on it. It seems to me a question for Dr. John Dill Robertson—or a matter for an employer to settle with his own consciousness."

were it not for the fact that the plan of San Diego was in effect with the note of June 19, 1917, from Herr Zimmerman to Von Eckhardt, the ambassador from Germany to Mexico.

The Zimmerman note contained the paragraph: "We (Germany) shall give general financial support (to Mexico), and it is understood that Mexico is to reconquer the lost territory in New Mexico, Texas, and Arizona."

Carranza's View of Wilson. The memorandum contained a copy of a letter said to have been written by Carranza to Miss Hermilia Galindo who had written a book entitled "The Carranza Doctrine." The Mexican president's note to her concerned a second book, which he said he wished her to write, and with this in view he gave her a copy of the "blue book," which he said reflected the attitude of his government in its "extreme hostility towards foreign speculators, especially Americans and English."

"Do not forget my injunction," Carranza wrote, "to describe in lively colors the tortuousity of the American policy with relation to our country causing the figure of Wilson to stand well out as the director of that policy."

"Hands Off"—Wilson.

The rapid trend of events in the direction of Mexican intervention was brought to a halt by President Wilson today.

In a brief letter addressed to Senator Fall of New Mexico, the president declared he would view "with grave concern" the adoption of the Fall resolution requesting him to withdraw recognition of Carranza and sever diplomatic relations with Mexico.

In language of icy politeness the president told the senate to keep its hands off the Mexican question. The adoption of the Fall resolution, he said, would "constitute a reversal of our constitutional practice," and he took occasion to remind the senate that the "initiative in directing the relations of our government with foreign powers lies in the constitution of the constitution to the executive and the executive only." He added that under the constitution, the advice of the senate in foreign affairs is provided for only when sought by the executive.

Fall Submits to Decay.

Senator Fall retaliated with a statement declaring the resolution entirely in accord with the constitution but stating that he would again ask the foreign relations committee to postpone action on the measure while the Mexican investigation goes forward.

The man having demanded his conception of his duty had held that he would further resemble himself with the facts, the responsibility, of course, now rests with him. Senator Fall said: "Meanwhile the committee will continue its very interesting and, we hope, profitable investigations."

OIL LEADER SAYS PROOF EXISTS OF MEXICAN PLOTS

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 8.—E. L. Doheny, president of the Mexican Petroleum company, tonight asserted that two departments of the United States government have absolute proof of the participation of Mexican representatives residing in this country in revolutionary propaganda.

Mr. Doheny's declaration was made in connection with a statement made in the oil industry in the United States as affected by the recent stoppage of drilling of eighteen wells by American companies in the oil region south of Tampico and the prevention of the shipment of oil from wells drilled by these companies by the Carranza government.

Mr. Doheny said the continued enforcement of the order of suspension cuts off all hope of a fuel oil supply for the shipping board's fleet of commercial vessels.

FAME AS A SPY BRINGS LEGION'S WRATH ON OTTO

Edward Wilhelm Otto finds that in peace there is no peace; at least for a German spy.

Once a master riding master in Highland Park, who was interned in Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and fed three times a day by a kindly government after it had found him a "fixed post" in the German secret service, has been riding out to Fort Sheridan lately; but he won't do it any more.

The horseman, a member of the American Legion, under Chairman Arthur Andrews, decided to send a committee to the former Prussian cavalryman and tell him if he didn't leave Lake Forest he would get a duckling in the lake.

He had decided to leave anyway. His trade has fallen off. He has sent his horse to the country and arranged that he will go to the Art Institute to pose as a perfect riding master or athlete or something equally fine—and cultured.

All the men were released on their own recognizance pending arrangement of bonds of $10,000 each on one indictment and $5,000 on another.

NEWBERRY TRIAL WILL BE OPENED ON JANUARY 27

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 8.—Trial of Senator Truman H. Newberry and 134 others indicted on charges of fraud and corruption in connection with Mr. Newberry's election in 1918 will begin before District Judge Clarence W. Seebeck, in the federal court here, on Jan. 27.

The date was agreed on by Judge Sessions and attorneys representing the defendants after arraignments today when the senator and twenty-four of his principal campaign leaders stood mute and plea of not guilty were directed by the court.

All the men were released on their own recognizance pending arrangement of bonds of $10,000 each on one indictment and $5,000 on another.

CHICAGO TO GET CONVENTION OF C. O. P.; JUNE 8

St. Louis Is Fighting, but Chances Favor This City.

ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—(Special)—The place: Chicago. The time: June 8, 1915.

This is the forecast for the Republican national convention, based on the views of Republican leaders arriving in Washington today for the meeting of the national committee on Wednesday.

The choice lies between Chicago and St. Louis, with Asbury Park, N. J., trying to horn in.

St. Louis Is at Work.

St. Louis has a big delegation of leaders and a $40,000 certified check from Fred Upham and his aggregation of unsurpassed convention getters. If arrive tomorrow well heeled to study the committee that Chicago is the ideal place.

"After all, there is only one convention city in the country," said a seasoned committeeman tonight. "As usual, we will listen to all the claimants and then, in my opinion, vote unanimously for Chicago."

Chairman Will H. Hays was on the job early today talking Republican "shop" and suavely assuring all comers that the convention would be held "somewhere during the first half of June."

Busy on Many Booms.

Committeeman John T. King of Connecticut came in exuding enthusiasm for the nomination of Gen. Leonard Wood. He already sees almost enough delegates in the offing for the selection of the general on the first ballot. New England he puts down as solid for Wood, with the exception of Massachusetts, which will go into the convention for Coolidge "on the first ballot."

The Lowden boomers will be here tomorrow prepared to demonstrate that the Illinois governor is the foremost aspirant in the field.

It is a fact that Wood and Lowden are by far the most widely discussed of all the candidates. But bidding the main event with unruffled confidence are Senators Harding of Ohio, Johnson of California, and Poindexter of Washington, Gov. Goodrich of Indiana, Gov. Collige of Massachusetts, and others.

Point to Wilson Errors.

"Responses to my letter to senators, congressmen, state and county chairmen, 5,000 in all, indicate that the people are strongly opposed to Wilson because of maladministration, extravagance and waste in public expenditure and the socialistic tendency of his regime," Mr. Hays said. "People appear to be saying pretty generally that they bought liberty bonds and the administration wasted their money."

The replies show a general cry for Americanism and for forceful measures to put down lawlessness and establish law and order. The Massachusetts men will report in this connection: Economy; lower taxes and settlement of the labor question are demands that run through all the replies. The peace treaty, league of nations, Mexico, and prohibition. I find mentioned only occasionally."

MANY PLEDGE HELP

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
Crestline, O., Dec. 8.—(Special)—The spinal column of the "anti-Chicago" campaign for the Republican national convention was severed before the train carrying the Chicago boosters to Washington for the national committee session was half way across Ohio. "O. K." was placed on Chicago by nine of the national committeemen who hold an informal caucus.

This means that practically every committee member from the middle and northwestern states will vote for Chicago Wednesday.

"I don't see how we can lose now," Chairman Fred W. Upham said. "Chicago will win on its merits as the best convention city on the continent."

PEPPER THROWN IN HOW OVER DOG.
Milwaukee, Dec. 8.—(Special)—At the Twenty-sixth place, and Miss Lillian Graham, 14 years old, 462 West Forty-sixth street, was captured last evening after she had been shot in the face full of pepper. This morning Miss Graham will be taken into custody, according to police.

LAST YEAR'S FLU WILLED LEGACY OF MUCH MISERY

Work of Good Fellows in 1919 Increased by Epidemic.

Lena's mother sews trousers for a living. Sometimes she makes as much as $4 a week. Lena isn't old enough to make trousers yet—she's only 10—but she helps. Just now she is making a dress for little Maria.

"Maria," Lena explains, "she's the doll I'm going to get on Christmas."

Lena's mother doesn't smile when Lena babbles about the doll. She still remembers that day last year when an ambulance made two trips from the little home on the north side to the county hospital. The entire family had been caught in the flu epidemic. Lena's father and the baby never came back from the hospital, and she, her mother, and her two brothers, Joe, 5, and Harry, 3, recuperated so slowly they are still in a weakened condition. Their doctors say they must have special care and food to combat a tubercular tendency.

Lena's mother is eligible to a mother's pension, but it isn't likely this will be granted before Christmas.

Other Flu Victims.

All the members of the G. family out on the west side also had the flu. Mr. G. died. Baby William spent the first six months of his life in the hospital, and he was nearly all night. The poor little boy is frail. Heart trouble and weak ankles add to her general poor health. Besides the baby, Florence has three brothers—Warren, 11, Byron, 9, and Howard, 7. Mrs. G.'s health is poor and is unable to do more than hold a few cards.

These same Good Fellow comes along there won't be much of a Christmas in the G. home.

The S. home is another one in which the flu was a visitor. (Mr. S. came from East St. Louis a little over a year ago. The health of Mrs. S. had been poor and the climate there did not agree with her. The husband obtained em-

BILLS RENDERED BY HOYNE ROUSE COUNTY BOARD

State's Attorney Hoyne, his legal services to the board of county commissioners and his bills for the board and lodging of witnesses and detectives, formed the basis of a spirited session of the board yesterday. As a result the county prosecutor probably will be replaced by another lawyer as legal adviser to the board.

The state's attorney's special vouchers covering the hotel expenses of some of his witnesses, characterized as convicts from Joliet, were questioned, before Commissioners Robert W. McKinley and Charles M. Goodnow would concur in the report of the finance committee that part of the report covering such expenditures was separated from the other bills and accounts.

Commissioner McKinley presented a resolution, and the rules to give authority to the board to employ special counsel in matters relating to bond issues and kindred matters requiring specialized talent. This motion brought forth objections on the part of Commissioners Busse, Goodnow, MacLean, and one or two others, but the upshot of it was that the resolution was referred to the committee of rules, which will report the amendment.

Mr. Hoyne will continue to look after the delinquent legal business of the county affecting real estate, capital stock on corporations, etc., but be relieved of certain other duties requiring special attention.

Commissioner McKinley demanded to know for whom the "sinola steaks, trifles, mushrooms, and other toothsome tidbits" were furnished for the upkeep of witnesses. None could tell.

YELLOW CAB DRIVERS

Have a Story to Tell

Talk to the YELLOW CAB driver when you have the chance. You will find him a genial, friendly chap who is thoroughly wrapped up in his business.

Ask him why he never has any labor troubles where he works. Ask him about his share of the Company's profits—how much they amount to in a year. Ask him what the Company does for him in the way of extra benefits that are not customary.

Ask him if he owns stock in the YELLOW CAB COMPANY and, if so, whether the Company aided him to get it. Ask him what the Company does for him in the way of dental treatment, eye treatment and general health treatment.

Ask him about the working conditions at his particular barn. Ask him if the "Boss" is arrogant and brutal or friendly and humane. Ask him if he is happy and contented and why. Ask him if the Company's interest in him is purely mechanical or whether it is personal and sincere.

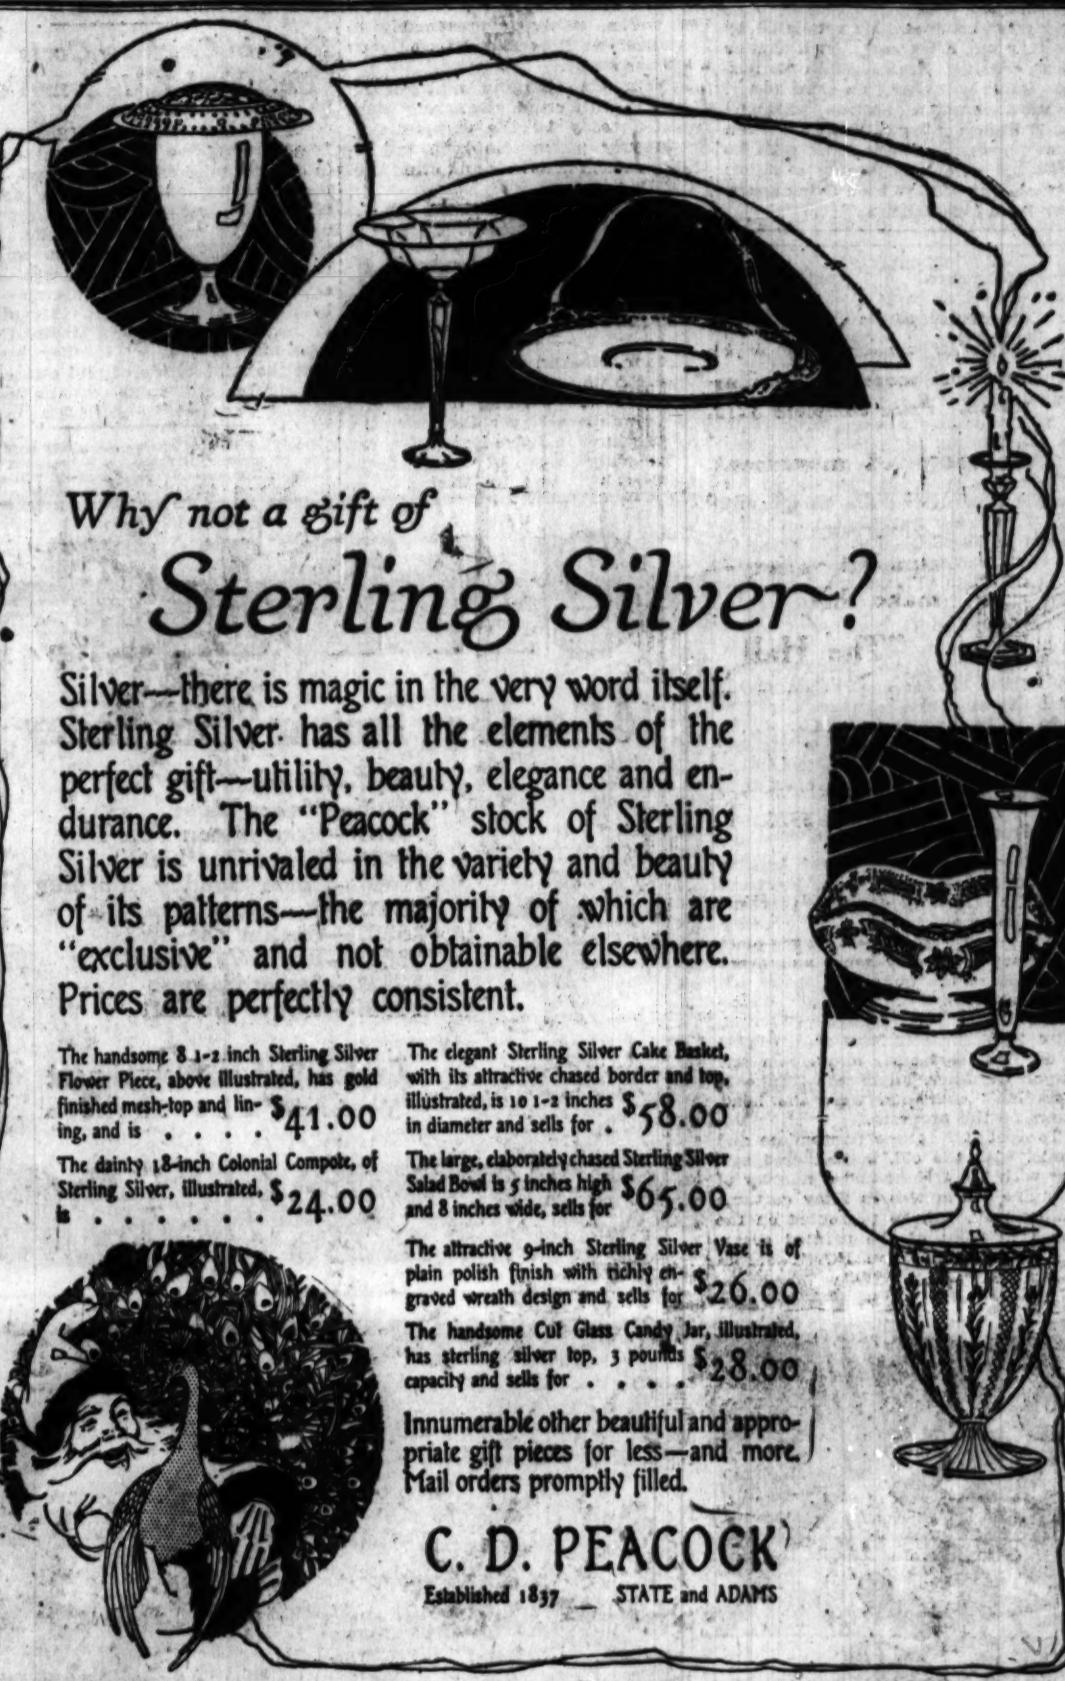

Ask him why he drives a YELLOW CAB—what his ambitions are—what he has accomplished since he began driving the YELLOW CAB—what his family has enjoyed from his earnings. Ask him where his children go to school, how many of the luxuries of life they are able to enjoy as contrasted with what they used to have.

Ask him why his job is so much better than any other job he ever had. Ask him why he is so anxious to please the Company and why he will strain himself to please you. Ask him what he had to do to qualify for the job of driving a YELLOW CAB.

Ask him his opinion of his Company and the men who run it. And then ask him under what conditions he would leave the YELLOW CAB. The answers will be interesting and will prove to you that this is the greatest cab company in the universe.

Did you ever stop to think what a splendid Christmas gift a Yellow Cab Coupon Book would make for your friends or the members of your family? You can obtain them from the Yellow Cab Garage at 57 East 21st Street, either by letter or telephone, in two sizes $10.00 or $25.00. On each book purchased you are allowed a 2 per cent discount.

REPUBLICAN JACK RABBITS.

We have blamed the Democratic administration and the Democratic party for failure to provide for national defense. Now it is the Republican majority in congress which is ready to reject universal service. The administration asks for it. The Republicans will not have it.

The house committee on military affairs, it is reported in Washington, will recommend legislation for a regular army of 300,000 men and 18,000 officers and nothing more. Gen. Pershing recommended the regular army of 350,000 AND universal service. Secretary Baker asked for a regular army of 500,000 AND universal service.

Pershing the soldier and Baker the secretary of war, by instinct and principle a pacifist, asked for universal service for the protection of the country and the development of citizenship. A committee controlled by Republicans is ready to recommend to a congress controlled by Republicans a program which contains the least recommended by Pershing and ignores the essential principle of national defense.

This evasion of duty, this desertion of national need and of military common sense is by the party which has devoted years to criticism of a Democratic administration's pacific course. The Democratic party has, by tradition, principle, and conviction, opposed to such a nationalizing device as a citizen army controlled by the federal government. But the administration is converted and is patriotic enough and sensible enough to ask congress to establish universal military service.

The party which turns tail and runs is the Republican party. With a political timidity which does not know shame, the Republicans who control congress are ready to throw national considerations aside and seek the safety of their own skins in the speed of their own legs.

A presidential campaign impends. The Republicans are afraid of it. The Democratic administration may be afraid of it, but that has not prevented a recommendation for a rational military policy. The Democratic administration presents the issue. The Republican congress takes to cover.

The Republicans in congress prove themselves to be lions in criticism and jack rabbits in performance.

HALF A GREAT NAVY.

Secretary Daniels speaks proudly of our great navy while ignoring the fundamental naval principle that even the most overwhelming fleet if divided only half a fleet.

Keeping the fleet together is as primary as C-A-T. Separating it is as disingenuous as P-O-L-I-T-I-C-S. If there is a partisan political reason for sending half the fleet to the Pacific the reason is equally substantial for sending the whole fleet.

The fact that the Panama canal exists as a quick means of mobilization only invites the other fact, which is that a ton of dynamite dropped from an airplane can destroy the canal. And then where is the fleet?

Regardless of the bland assurances of Mr. Daniels that mobilization is a simple matter, we prefer to take our lessons from Admiral Mahan, whose whole life was devoted to exposing the folly of dividing the fleet. In his brief term in the navy Daniels may have absorbed a great deal of tactics and strategy. Still we doubt if he has offset the reflections of Mahan, whose word has become law to all the maritime nations.

We could recount a dozen historical reasons for keeping the fleet together. Keeping the fleet together is as fundamental as keeping your powder dry or putting a roof on your house.

Half of a fleet is open invitation to the destruction of both halves. What man, what Hercules would think of tying one hand behind him?

FOR A REAL BUDGET.

Budget legislation to be proposed in the senate by Senator McCormick seems to have the approval of men experienced in public expenditures and revenue measures. A thing so important as the budget should be so sponsored and not be launched largely as a mystery.

Gov. Lowden has shown himself capable as a public administrator through budget. His advice ought to have weight in congress. And so, too, the advice of such men as Nicholas Murray Butler, Secretary Glass, and former Congressman Fitzgerald. They are of the opinion that the financial policy of the government properly rests in the treasury department.

A budget system should use money efficiently and not merely act as a new agency for spending money in the old and wasteful way. There seems to be no need for creating a bureau to do in another fashion that which already is being done by the treasury department. The need is for a system which shall determine the importance of proposed expenditures, tabulate them for the edification of congress, and suggest adequate revenues. These things appear to receive consideration in the new senate bill.

HAS FORD CHANGED?

Henry Ford, who is at Battle Creek with John Burroughs, is quoted by a newspaper interviewer as saying:

"The Mexican situation is something that has to be settled and right now. Intervention is nearer than the general public realizes. Mexico is a vast undeveloped part of the world and must be opened up to modern development. American capital and American brains will do it."

Mr. Ford may have been misguided. If he has been, we'll have to reng on the comment, but if that is what he said and if he said what he meant, it is too bad that he did not think it and mean it several years ago.

We'll say that if he had it would have saved a great deal of money spent in a lawsuit, and some of it was Mr. Ford's money. Possibly some of the evidence introduced in the lawsuit changed Mr. Ford's opinions by making him acquainted with facts.

Mexican disorders, lawlessness, incompetence, and lack of civilization devastate a rich area of the world's surface and keep resources from being developed which developed would make living easier. It is not humanity to keep arable land, grazing land, land needed by the people for their sustenance, in an unproductive condition. It is not humane to the Mexicans or to any one else.

WAR TIME LAWS IN PEACE.

At the present moment the controversy over ratification of the treaty of Versailles seems to be in abeyance. We do not know whether this precludes peace between the contending parties or merely a lull preceding another long struggle between the president and Senator Lodge with their respective followings in the senate.

If they cannot get together promptly there ought to be either a declaration of a state of peace or a change in government policy. In two conspicuous instances advantage has been taken of our legal war status to enforce laws enacted in contemplation only of the actual conditions of war.

The war time prohibition bill was passed to meet war time conditions. It has been enforced after war is ended. That is bad faith. It is taking advantage of a hollow legal formality and about half the people of the country are disgusted at the trick.

The other case is the attempt to stop the miners' walkout by injunction based on another war time statute. We may concede that any injunction would have been resented and opposed by the strikers, but in this case there was the added feeling that the process was based on an unreality, on a legal technicality, not intended in the enactment of the law.

The situation which made this possible is inherently false and should be corrected. If a declaration of peace is impracticable or inadvisable for reasons rising from our international relations, the federal government and all other public agencies ought to avoid trading on an abnormal situation.

The temptation has been and will be to prolong the force of war time laws on the theory that the results of the war are still with us and justify exceptional action. But this temptation should be resisted. If any war legislation is needed in this transitional period, congress should reconsider it and re-enact it. It should not be left to the executive discretion to prolong its operation on technical interpretations contrary to the notorious fact that is a vicious precedent and is having immediately undesirable effects.

MR. FRICK'S BEQUEST.

Henry C. Frick's will strengthens the tendency toward public interest in the accumulations of individuals. Mr. Frick gave approximately one-sixth of his riches to his family and five-sixths to the community. Mr. Frick may be thought to have reflected deeply upon the inheritance tax.

We may think $25,000,000 an abundance for the heirs of Mr. Frick, and yet $117,000,000 for the community also is a snug sum. The same ratio applied to an estate of a few thousands would make the division seem generous to the public and not overdesirable upon the inheritance tax.

The will is to the credit of the Frick family.

Well, let's see. There's soapwood, and grease-wood; and—Oh, one might whittle a wheeze if one had time.

ILLINOIS PROTECTS STUDENTS.

THE University of Illinois, following the established university custom, provides a health service for its students. When 5,000 young people are gathered together from many communities some forms of communication increase and certain to be brought in. The first year proved this in 1917-1918, if any proof were needed.

Under the old dispensation the universities trusted to luck to pull them through somehow, somewhat disengaged but still in the ring. In consequence, every university expected to be upset by some form of contagion at intervals.

When the first year came the student association scattered the students entirely on two occasions. Now a student's health service promptly gets control of contagious disease situations and the student life goes serenely on.

At the University of Illinois the health service makes physical examination of the matriculants soon after they enter school. They have separate schools of physical education. They advise the students in personal hygiene. They watch general sanitation, especially the sanitation of student eating houses.

But this story deals especially with the control of contagion. In 1918-1919 they vaccinated 3,817 persons against smallpox. No cases of smallpox occurred among students at the school, due to the influence of the war and the availability of lipovaccines. 2,576 students were vaccinated against typhoid fever.

The report says lipovaccines has the advantage over the old type of requiring only one dose instead of three. It is equally as efficient and reduces the work of the physician and the discomfort of the patient by two-thirds. Apparently there were only two cases of typhoid fever among the students.

The investigation of food handlers indicates that between 17 and 20 per cent of the adult population in central Illinois have had typhoid fever.

Three hundred and thirteen were vaccinated against pneumonia. Up to the time of the report was written none had had pneumonia.

The report on influenza is of interest. One thousand and eighty-six students were cared for in hospital for 7,579 days. Twenty-three died. They came to two conclusions. First, if a person went to bed promptly when he got sick his chances of recovery and of the avoidance of very serious complications of pneumonia are greatly increased. Second, the smaller the number of students living in a rooming house the fewer the number of cases in proportion and the less their severity.

The women students do not live in dormitories. None of them died. Men frequently lived in large groups. The death rate among them was higher.

There has been a steady increase in recent years in house university students in dormitories. There is something to be said in favor of this.

The vaccination against influenza was done between the first and second waves. About one-half of those who were vaccinated thought it helped. Only one of the vaccinated had pneumonia, and no other had serious complications. The reporters think it worthy of trial in the face of an oncoming epidemic.

NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH MOVE LIKE A VATICAN

Detroit Action, Carried Out, Leads to Rome
Comparison.

New York, Dec. 9, 3 a.m.—[Special]—The New York Herald this morning publishes a story to the effect that the Episcopal church is to establish a prating church body similar to the Vatican at Rome.

CHICAGO BISHOP EXPLAINS.

The Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson, Bishop of Chicago, was told last night that the construction placed on this action of the Episcopal church by the New York newspaper.

"The newly elected executive presiding bishop and his council will meet Thursday in New York," said Bishop Anderson. "Were I not ill I should be on my way there now."

"The general convention at Detroit adopted a canon which created the new executive body, but it did not call the Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Gallog, D. D., elected president of the council, and several bishops, five priests, and ten laymen members named as members. The council will hold at least four sessions a year, and met recently in Washington, D. C., to organize."

Not Vatican, but Council.

There are five departments, which include the different boards of the church as well as new branches of mission and publicity. The present board of missions, the board of religious education, and the commission on social service have been amalgamated with the other organization.

"What the report calls a 'vatican' merely the council, which consists of council members, elected by the triennial general convention."

REVENUE AGENTS PUT OUT PENDING RAID INQUIRIES

Liquor Dealers Charge Stocks Are Seized and Sold.

Suspension from liquor investigating squads of John A. Shannon and several other agents of the government internal revenue department was reported yesterday as the result of investigation of the seizure and alleged secret sale of contraband whisky in Chicago.

A general shakeup, an event which heads of both the department of justice and two branches of the revenue service refuse to discuss, is expected to follow the issue of complaints.

Saloon and cafe men in practically every part of the city have complained that men representing themselves to be revenue agents have been seizing quantities of liquor and imposing fees to favored saloons.

Despite the protests by revenue authorities that no government agent is guilty, it was learned that a dozen saloonkeepers have been questioned by special investigators and that sufficient suspicion has been aroused to cause the suspension of agents.

In Zion City Case.

The activities of Shannon came under official notice when he was subpoenaed as a witness in the Kenosha-Chicago beer running exposé pressed by Federal Judge Landis. He admitted on the stand that he had been driving the boat automobile which accompanied the beer trucks concealed in Zion City, and that State Senator Carroll, one of the saloonkeepers held to be responsible, was in the car. He said he was there on duty, although Zion authorities charged him with being intoxicated and declared he had been arrested with the rest.

Judge Landis at the time advised department heads to investigate. Shannon later spent the night behind bars in the Stockyards station, charged with carrying weapons.

Fake Agents Blamed.

When proprietors of the north side cafés complained that revenue agents several weeks ago had carried away quantities of private stock, revenue heads announced that the raid had been made by fake agents.

Shannon then told THE TRIBUNE that he had been one of the party that made the raid in question.

Prior to the merger the Bowman concern was the second largest in the city, the Borden company being the larger.

Gandy was captured later.

'SORRY I CAN'T
SEND THOUSAND,
WAR NURSE SAYS

Christmas Money for the Sheridan Wounded
Comes In Fast.

"All the love possible, and best wishes to Uncle Sam's boys. Wish I could send a thousand."

That is the message which accompanied a contribution yesterday from an overseas nurse for the Christmas fund for the wounded soldiers at the Fort Sheridan hospital. She was there and saw what they did.

If the boys at the hospital could read some of the letters they would be proud and happy. There are letters from mothers whose sons came back whole, from mothers whose sons did not come back, and from men whose brothers are still in France.

"I have been out to Fort Sheridan and seen many of them," another letter reads, "and have witnessed their un-failing cheerfulness."

$1,000. Mark Passed.

The responses yesterday were general. The $1,000 mark was passed. That's the first line of trenches. Let's take the $2,000 trench today. There are 3,000 of those boys there, and you know how many Christmas dollars buy at current prices. Contributions received yesterday follow:

5,000 CHOPS FOR
2,200 MEN, REPLY
TO JOHNSON TALE

Congressman Royal C. Johnson of South Dakota, who wired Secretary of War Baker that sixty crippled soldiers at Fort Sheridan were being without dinner, said just now that the injured soldiers get cold food. One called THE TRIBUNE last night, saying that so many things had been printed about the nurses that he did not ask the mess officer or the commandant for an explanation.

John George, a Persian, was fined $20 and costs by Justice C. C. Tamm, the circuit court, yesterday for slapping Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, 2416 West Monroe street, and Mrs. George Donovan, 2440 Park avenue, on a street car.

told them there was no more food. The sixty reported back to their section chiefs and were fed as soon as possible. There were 5,000 pork chops for 2,200 men, the colonel pointed out, and there was no excuse for anybody's going hungry.

The nurses at the Fort Sheridan hospital want it known that they are in no way to blame for the fact that the 600 men who were wounded without dinner Sunday was just a little hasty, Col. W. N. Bispham believes.

Col. Bispham, commandant at the hospital, asserts the congressman was on the reservation only forty-five minutes and that he did not ask the mess officer or the commandant for an explanation.

MURDER OF PAL WAS A MISTAKE

A murderer's bullet intended for George Simpson, his victim, went astray, killing James Murphy, former Pontiac convict, and ending a merry evening of criminal activities for Frank Balaske, Edward [Pinky] Pinkerton, Erick W. Gotsch, and Murphy himself. Balaske, who fired the bullet, explained the mishap yesterday at the inquest over Murphy's body. He also signed a confession involving the band in numerous holdups and bank and mail robberies, according to Sheriff John W. Norton.

Balaske said he thought Simpson had been slain and shot to kill Simpson.

Among the holdups admitted by Balaske was that of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Marston of 1216 Astor street, who were robbed in front of their home Thursday night. Mrs. Marston lost a rope of pearls.

Thomas Matz, 9 years old, of 449 West Thirteenth street, was hurt, probably fatally, last night when an automobile owned and driven by Max Sison, 811 South Laflin street, knocked him unconscious while he was riding on his bicycle in front of 728 West Roosevelt road.

I suppose you think it's "bow" to rhyme with "Oh." Well, you're wrong; it's "bow" to rhyme with "Ow!"

And Toby was an old colored man servant to whom emancipation meant nothing but a word, and not much of a word at that—who would bow to nobody but members of the family.

"Hiccup" Mr. Tom Moore into the picture! Well, he was an author, and a good one; village life is a most devastating thing to his health and outlook on life. Fate sends him as a boor to the beautiful but poverty-stricken southern home where a desperate granddaughter is striving to make both ends meet without permitting her frail old grandmother to know of their straitened circumstances.

In which she is aided and abetted by the father. Toby, who sells the wine to pay bills, and when sternly questioned by the grand old lady, makes humble acknowledgment:

"You're right, I'm gone. Ah Jes' stopped an' sipped—"

The daughter has aspirations to be a writer. Her influence brings the dissipated Thomas back to normal, while his accustomed hand gets a novel of hers in the right sort of trim for a publisher. She doesn't realize for a long, long time that she has been assisted by a more or less famous writer, as the old writer has assumed his mother's name, wishing to remain unknown, until his rest may be undisturbed.

Then complications. Then happy ending. Toby bows to the new master.

If you enter the theater in the middle of the showing, you don't like the picture very well—for you do not seem to be able to concentrate. If you leave from the start, it pleases you better.

But, despite some fair acting, Tom Moore, and excellent photography, "Toby's Bow" must be said to stack up with the non-essentials in the photoplay line.

When nearly through eating in a crowded cafeteria the other day, I decided I wanted more bread. Taking my check I went to the counter, but neglected to lay my chair. When I returned later I found the porter had cleared away my place and there I was with a slice of bread as if that was my selected meal with nothing to eat with it. No wonder folks around were smiling!

Breaking a Bad Habit.

My employer was in the habit of paying my car fare home at night, so in a short time I began to think seriously of this affair. One evening I was going to put a stop to it, so quickly as I stepped on the platform of the car I handed the conductor my fare. The next morning in company with my employer next to me and my mother, a bewitching moment was seeing the conductor at his side asking for his fare, which he thought I had paid. R. E.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Fat is pure anthracite. Sugar is good hard wood. The cereals, including bread, make the standby human fire. A pure fat yields 4,000 units of heat and energy. We call these units calories because there are other sorts of food units. Butter has 12 per cent or more of water. Subtract that per cent of 4,000 from 4,000, and you will find the calories in butter. Cream has 74 per cent water. Take 74 per cent of 4,000, subtract it from 4,000, and you will find how many heat units there are in cream.

Fat pork, back fat, may have as little as 1.8 per cent of water and averages only 1.7 per cent, or, at its best, yields 1,800 units of heat or calories. Nuts contain a high per cent of oil plus a good deal of starch, therefore are fine fuel foods.

Fruits are fine food and so are the vegetables, but they are not fuel foods. The easiest way to keep below your average weight and be good healthy in the cold is to eat a good diet of both. You need not be sick, just lame and without the amount of energy you would need if you were ill.

Wheat, oats, rye, corn, buckwheat, beans, etc., are good fuel foods. These fuel foods are turned into energy, and bodily energy or activity has for its byproduct heat.

Shackleton's men appreciated the heat and energy in a cracker crumb meal when they were under the strain of physical exertion.

It is difficult to make some of these plants be killed by deep freezes and strong winds that are to be expected during the next two or three months. The material used in making wind breaks and covering the soil need not be expensive. All that is necessary is to provide some kind of covering which will check the dry wind, deep freezing, alternate freezing and thawing, and deter early growth.

The wind break may be made of barrels, boxes, scrap lumber, or branches that have been cut from evergreen trees.

Patterns by Clotilde

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

With the present indication of a severe winter, all cedar and other evergreens and small bushes on the lawn should be protected by wind breaks. There is danger that plants may be killed, especially the young, tender trees and shrubs.

These plants not only are injured directly by extreme low temperatures, but there are other damages done. Of course, alternate freezing and thawing around unprotected trees and shrubs is detrimental to the plants, but more often unprotected plants start growing too early in the spring and the result is that many tender twigs and buds are killed.

When the older and hardy trees or buildings provide protection to young trees the artificial wind breaks are not needed.

When young trees may be killed by the whole plant may be killed by deep freezes and strong winds that are to be expected during the next two or three months. The material used in making wind breaks and covering the soil need not be expensive. All that is necessary is to provide some kind of covering which will check the dry wind, deep freezing, alternate freezing and thawing, and deter early growth.

The wind break may be made of barrels, boxes, scrap lumber, or branches that have been cut from evergreen trees.

Leaves of straw-mixed with manure make an excellent cover to protect the roots. The stalks may be held in place by using burlap bags. The amount of material used will depend on the size of the tree or shrub. Do not pack the stalks too close together or moisture will collect within the bundle and injure the plants.

Leaves of straw-mixed with manure make an excellent cover to protect the roots. The stalks may be held in place with this kind of material, or it may be covered with branches that have been pruned from the trees.

Trees and shrubs that have been transplanted this fall should not be neglected. It is advisable to tie such plants to a strong stake to prevent them from being blown over.

I am afraid I would be considered a "good sport" because I do not think highly of "postoffice" as a game for nice, wholesome youngsters.

You drop into the library some day and look on the shelves "Entertainment and Games" and you will find a hundred or more suggestions that would be more to your taste.

My little sister Jane and our neighbor's little girl are great friends. One day they quarreled and left each other angry. Next day they were seen playing together and when Jane came home I said, "I thought you were angry at Dorothy." Upon this she replied, "I was mad on her yesterday, but today we got 'quainted again."

E. M. B.

Teddy, after taking a tumble down the stairs, when asked how he felt, said while rubbing his knee:

"O, I'm all right, but I reckon I've got a pile of sore knees." H. R. J.

Dottie had spells of temper, at which times her mother ignored her, telling her she was a bad child, for her little girl didn't act naughty. One time, after enduring this coldness from her mother as long as she could, she looked up into her face and said wistfully: "The naughty has all gone out of me, mamma. Isn't I your little girl now?" ### ANNOUNCEMENTS

The usual number of wounded soldiers will attend the Kinisolving morning musical in the crystal ballroom at the Blackstone this morning—that is to say, those who care to attend. A few women, who are the sole exception, will be present. The spectacle of human beings in empty sleeves (there was a war or something in Europe a year or two ago, if you remember, and some American boys were roughly handled). Miss Kinisolving, to whom the women complained, expects that things will run along pretty well in spite of their absence.

Our great receptions and dances on the north, west, and south sides will mark the celebration of "Irish Week" Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Ladies Auxiliary. Twenty thousand persons are expected to attend the several affairs. Many from outside Chicago are coming, and the "Irish night" observance will be made at annual institution.

The Prairie State club will meet for luncheon tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock at the Morrison hotel.

The Opera

BY W. L. HUBBARD.

"Love's Labour's Lost," "Le Chemineau," had repetition last evening at the Auditorium, thus ushering in the fourth week of the Chicago opera season. The audience was the customary large one, more interested and held attention in more than usual degree. The opera is of sterling worth, one which gains in power and charm with each rehearing, and its disappearance from the repertory would be cause for regret. The cast was identical with that of the previous presentation, and merits only hearty commendation.

Mme. Galli repeated her vocally admirable and finely executed portraiture of Toliette, Miss Sharpe was wholly adequate as Alline, and Mme. Closson was, as usual, capital in the character rôle of Catherine. Mr. Bakstow contributes one of his ablest and most finished performances as Francois, the Vagabond of Mr. Dufraine is a masterly vocal and historically. Mr. Warneray as Toliette and Mr. Huberdeau as Pierre are wholly in place, and the old topers of Mr. Nicolay and Mr. Daffreys are gems of comedy, portraiture.

Tonight, "La Traviata" with Mme. Galli Curci, Mr. Schipa, and Mr. Chalfi in leading roles.

An extra performance was given before a filled house, the opera being "Lucia, with Mme. Galli Curci in the title part.

She was in good vocal condition and repeated her well known presentation of Lucia with the same enthusiasm.

Dr. Covert, reporting for the industrial relations committee, said:

"The church cannot stand for other than constitutional methods for changing the present order, or for other than a democratic control of society, in which the contributions and rights of minorities are recognized, as against the dominance of any group or class, of whatever kind or actuated by whatever motives. Acting constitutionally and democratically, and by means of experimentation, the people's will can have no limit to the changes they may choose to make."

Pastor Turns Barber in Spare Time to Boost His Income

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIOT.

"Although the preacher ought to be the leader in the community, we found the pastor of one community was employed in his spare time as a paper boy by the health officer of the city," said R. H. Augustin, state supervisor of the survey work being made by the interchurch world movement, addressing the conference last night at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. "Another pastor of a $20,000 church had to earn his living as a barber, while in another community the pastor, with five children, kept a store."

Mr. Frank German Beck, in charge of the Chicago district survey, disclosed some of the findings of his committee.

"Seventy per cent of the boy crime of the city is in 30 per cent of the geographical area of the city," he said.

"In that area they have the least machinery to take care of the situation.

In the First ward, in the early '80s, there were eighteen churches.

Now there are three, and the population is practically the same as when they were eighteen."

Protest against "the grossly improper conduct which intent the loop of Chicago," he said.

"The question of social hygiene is is one that cannot be dodged," said the Rev.

William Covert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Williams of New York asked how soon the churches were going to regulate cigarettes and tobacco.

Dr. Covert, reporting for the industrial relations committee, said:

"The church cannot stand for other than constitutional methods for changing the present order, or for other than a democratic control of society, in which the contributions and rights of minorities are recognized, as against the dominance of any group or class, of whatever kind or actuated by whatever motives. Acting constitutionally and democratically, and by means of experimentation, the people's will can have no limit to the changes they may choose to make."

Wealthy Poet Testifies Wife Bent Poker Over His Head.

TRACTION BOARD
Men Named by Mayor to Get Back 5 Cent Car Fares.

MAYOR NAMES 4 ON BOARD TO GET 5C FARES

Will Try to Establish "People's Ownership" of Traction Lines.

Mayor Thompson, at yesterday's council meeting, named four members of his traction commission which under his "people's ownership plan" is expected to bring back 5 cent street car fares and make Chicago's traction system a model for the world."

The mayor stuck close to his official family in making the appointments as follows:

Samuel A. Ettelson, corporation counsel.

Charles R. Francis, commissioner of public works.

John R. Garner, formerly commissioner of public service under Mayor Thompson and now alderman from the Thirty-third ward.

P. H. Moynihan, president of the Calumet Coal and Teamming company and former alderman.

Will Name Engineer.

The fifth member of the traction board is to be an engineer appointed by the mayor and recommended by the commissioners, who will meet at the mayor's office next Tuesday to organize.

The mayor's commission is something new in traction boards in that only one of the five commissioners will be technically trained in traction matters.

The board, however, will have access to the report of the Parsons-Ridgway-Arnold commission made three years ago.

Sergeant Without Pay.

Another point of difference is the fact that the four commissioners will serve without pay. Parsons, Arnold, and Ridgway received $1,000 each for their services.

"The duty of this traction commission is to formulate plans and recommend such enabling legislation as will provide for a transportation district and a 5 cent fare," Mayor Thompson said in his message. "I have appointed this commission with the confident trust that the men appointed will within six months present a plan which will satisfy the requirements set forth in my message of Sept. 4."

The proposed transportation district is to be somewhat similar in scope to the sanitary district, with the management of traction affairs in the hands of a popularly elected commission of five men.

Veteran Cullerton Ordinance.

By a veto of the so-called Cullerton ordinance, Mayor Thompson threw the entire question of "civilian rule" in the first department back into the city council yesterday.

Members of the committee on fire, schools and civil service believed they had settled the question by defining the duties of John F. Cullerton, departmental manager of properties, who, as assistant marshals and battalion chiefs declared that the "civilian chief" of the department.

Ald. Clark declared the mayor's veto was accepted by the assistant marshals, who have taken a personal dislike to Mr. Cullerton. Ald. Clark served notice on the mayor that an attempt would be made to pass the measure over his veto.

Ald. Adamowski introduced a series of amendments to the traffic ordinances which would make it unlawful for a pedestrian to cross busy streets except at marked intersections or designated pedestrian crossings.

An ordinance providing for the pay of all members of the police department when off duty on account of illness or absence of family was passed, and Ald. Woodfull asked the police committee to recommend that 100 horses be purchased to be used in night patrol work in the outlying districts.

Other recommendations of the sub-committee are:

Reduction of the number of police stations from thirty-four to twenty-nine.

Reduction of the number of captains from twenty-seven to fifteen and the number of lieutenants from eighty-eight to fifty-eight.

Gain 300 Men in One Place.

Abolition of the miscellaneous bureau, the work of the bureaus to be done by the present stations, putting 350 patrolmen back on beats.

Inauguration of a quarterly inspection of all pistols and rifles.

"If the recommendations are carried out between 300 and 350 men will be added to the effective force," Ald. Guernsey said.

40,000 POUNDS OF FRESH FISH ON WAY TO HELP CUT H.C.L.

A REFRIGERATOR car, loaded with 40,000 pounds of fresh sea fish, is on its way from Boston to Chicago, where it will enter the lists with old H. C. L. next Thursday and Friday.

This is THE TRIBUNE'S contribution to the problem of furnishing sea food to Chicago residents at a reasonable price, and it will help half the residential districts make prices.

The purpose of the campaign is also to teach Chicagoans the value of this food. The fish were caught Saturday and Sunday and will arrive in this city in perfectly fresh condition. They are packed in layers of ice.

The sales places this week will be: Milwaukee avenue, municipal market; Milwaukee avenue and Maplewood; Irving Park market; Irving Park boulevard and Kedzie avenue.

The Lincoln avenue market, Lincoln avenue and Belmont street; and the Michigan Avenue market, Michigan Avenue and Wabash street, near the bridge.

The prices will be the same as last week prior to their marriage.

Journal to London.

"Then we went to London, so that I might have my poetry published," said Peck.

"Did you intend to live there permanently? A.—No.

"During my second visit to London Mrs. Peck became amenable to reason and to my literary career, but afterwards became inclined to it. During the time she put a very definite obstruction in the way of my ambition. She was prone to hysterical displays of outbreaks.

"She fell into fits of impulsive and violent fits of her sex. She used to follow me with any hard utensil that came to her hand. She used to come up to my study and rage around there and pick up any book that came into her hand, break the glass in the picture and tear the book in pieces. She destroyed over a hundred of my poems. I was the strongest student in Sandford's physical institute, but I couldn't strike back. Downward was the finishing school used to torment herself by bending pokers and fire irons on me, hitting me on the head and actually bending the iron. I have a cauliflower ear like a prize fighter where she hit me with a cane.

Q.—Did you drink? A.—To the extent that most Englishmen do. We sink cocktails together.

Admitted "Affair" to Wife.

Q.—Did you ever talk to your wife about Yvonne Normand? A.—Yes, I discussed my affection for Yvonne. She and Yvonne were adventurous. She told me every duty of Yvonne.

Q.—Have you ever been unduly friendly with Agathe Richardson? A.—No.

Q.—Is it still your intention to marry Yvonne? A.—I realize that man's desire is a matter upon which two shall probably have the decision and I cannot inform you of the present whereabouts or intentions of Yvonne.

Q.—Have you applied to Washington for a passport to return to Europe? A.—I have—some months ago—I have a passport now. It permits me to visit any foreign country.

Q.—You don't want to go to France? A.—I wanted to visit France for the purpose of polishing up some of my poems.

Q.—So that both your wife and your companion took a slice at the same time? A.—Yes.

Q.—You ever call Yvonne "Mavis"? A.—Possibly.

Q.—Did you call her "Hicks"? A.—Perhaps.

Q.—Didn't the English government urge you to return to America? A.—There was a little note on the back of my passport, but there because the edge inspector at Liverpool was suffering from a pique, and that gentleman was quite peeved because he had examined hundreds of letters of my correspondence. My relations with Yvonne Normand had nothing to do with it.

Q.—How long have you been a drinking man? A.—Since I was 18 years old.

Q.—Did you ever get on a sort of high and did it cause you to exaggerate your ability as a poet? A.—Not at all.

"Yes, I Am Happy; How Are You All?" One Ghost Said.

LETTERS FROM THE SPIRIT WORLD—NO. 9

[Read this carefully, then go on.]
A materializing medium is one from whose body can be called that essence which, when solidified, provides conditions for a spirit to construct a physical form in which to manifest. . . . The substance is called psycho-plastic matter and is of a fluidic and vapory nature which feels like a dense fog on the floor of the laboratory. . . . The process of accumulating this vapory essence may continue for an hour or so, and during this time it is gradually solidified by unseen intelligences into a substance very similar in appearance and touch to bather's dough.

The soul of the medium is ejected from his body by the controlling spirits. Another spirit operator is now ready to place over the medium's ejected soul the psycho-plastic matter and begins to mould it into a human form resembling the appearance of the spirit who wishes to manifest, usually a relative of one of the persons in the seance room.—J. Heseltine McKenzie.

HE COMES FROM MILWAUKEE.

Chief Rheumatism is advertised as a materializing medium. He comes from Milwaukee, where his address is 74 Franklin place. He's enjoying a popular run on the north side just now and gives two or three seances a week, either at the home of John H. Ryan, 1419 North Clark street, or at the home of a Mrs. Tanner on Larrabee street.

I attended a seance at the Ryan home the other night and I would say that if he is going to continue his work in Chicago he gets a white serge Buddhist priest robe, learn to pray in Hindooostani, buy a pot of Balman's luminous paint and a few capsules which can be held in the mouth and blown out to resemble ghostly figures.

He might also use a few telescope rods and patent collapsible ghosts that are blown up through rubber tubes that run under the carpet from the medium's feet.

Another family was broken up by the city health department yesterday in an attempt to save the life of a 7-week old baby already infected with tuberculosis by her mother.

On orders by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health officer called at the home of Mrs. Antoinette Marsik, the mother of the baby. They found the mother and child in the same bed. The baby was so ill that Dr. Bundesen was called for advice, and he directed that not only the mother but Anna, the baby, be taken to the county hospital.

Father Threatens Suit.

The father is angry and has hired a lawyer to institute suit against Dr. Bundesen. Health Commissioner Robertson said last night: "The case simply proves that hospitalization is the only way to save the lives of children who are living with tubercular parents."

If we had any wind of this case in time, we might have kept this baby from infection. As it is, physicians at the hospital tell me that this little girl is already generally infected with tuberculosis."

Bids Her Baby Farewell.

Mrs. Bertha Mills, who was taken from her 14 month old son, Walter, by health officers last Friday, bid a touching farewell to her child yesterday when the father took the baby to its mother's room in the county hospital. She pleaded to hold the baby in her arms once more, and was granted her wish for a brief moment. Physicians say she is dying.

Doctor Finds Mother Dead; Blames Heart Disease.

Edwin J. Parr, who went out of the home of Dr. Frank R. Braune, 3618 Wilton avenue, early Sunday morning to attend to his business, was found dead at mid-morning. Mrs. Parr said: "Yes, he was here, but he has gone to bed. I can't disturb him now."

His wife received him, sadly and with pity. He will stay there, temporarily at least, she says. He has no plans at present. He is sorry about the whole affair. He doesn't know where Mrs. Braune is according to Mrs. Parr.

Parr, who is superintendent of construction for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, and lives at 4817 Rice street, was found with Mrs. Braune late Saturday night at the Braune home. The husband walked in on them with some detectives and his wife got out with Parr.

There were twenty-five persons at the seance, fifteen of whom are members of the chief's instruction class in mediumship, which he holds every Friday afternoon in his apartment of Mrs. Mills in the Lincoln Park section.

RAILROAD NEEDS MINT STIMULUS FOR INDUSTRY

Require Enough Equipment to Keep Factories on Hum for 3 Years.

In the prospective demand for equipment by American railroads there is a suggestion of how industries of this country will be employed for a period of years in satisfying home markets.

The estimate of railroad needs is about 700,000 freight cars, 50,000 passenger cars and 10,000 locomotives before 1922. Such a volume of orders would keep American manufacturers engaged for three years.

A building activity is promised for the beginning of next year which in large measure has not been equaled in previous decades.

These conditions have been brought about by the war.

Stimulus for All Lines.

There cannot be a great production of supplies for railroads and an increase of building operations without the stimulus being felt in other lines.

If manufacturers of equipment are to be busy for three years, then there will have been tilted over the period in which trade stagnation should take place it is to be expected that business will be organized for export business under the terms of the pending Edge bill.

Bullion Price Bulks Large.

The Bureau of railway news and statistics has issued a report covering the operations of 250,473 miles of road for the year ended Dec. 31, 1918. The first nine months of 1919 also are discussed.

The report deals with the increase in percentage of cost in all different departments of operation and points out that in 1918 labor was paid $4.64 per cent of operating revenues, against $4.09 per cent in 1916.

The report says:

"The aggregate compensation of railroad employees in 1918 was $2,656,734,498, or nearly $300,000,000 more than the total operating revenue in 1908."

The appended summary indicates the change on a percentage basis of the expenditures of the railroads of 1918 compared with the same items in 1916:

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET FOR DAY HAS FIRM TONE

Call Money Climbs from Six to Ten Per Cent in Surprise Move.

The New York Times.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The renewed strength of industrial stocks imparted to the market added to its firmness, which was maintained throughout. A great deal of irregularity was in evidence, however, indicating professional traders were more active than the public and were turning from one issue to another in their search for profits.

Railroad shares were quite as irregular as the others, some moving upward early in the day for gains which were fairly well held, while others receded under light pressure.

The bond market was active, due largely to extensive buying of the local traction issues. Interborough Rapid Transit Co. sold as high as 60%, compared with a quotation of 44 last week.

Day's News Slight Factor.

Expectation that the coal strike would end within twenty-four hours was hardly reflected in the market, although purchases of stocks, nor did the street show any particular interest in dispatches which forecast an easement of the tension over the German government's attitude toward the peace protocol.

Call money rose from 6 to 10 per cent somewhat unexpectedly in the afternoon, a movement which showed some of the sentiment of the loan market, but which member banks last week had of the contraction in rediscosants which the federal reserve system reported. Presumably preparations for the last income tax installment payment on Dec. 15, acted to tighten money rates.

The decline of more than $12,000,000 in rediscosants in commercial paper, shown in the consolidated statement of the twelve reserve banks for the last week, was offset partly by expansion of commercial paper discounts and by the accumulation of bills in the open market, but, nevertheless, was satisfactory against the background supplied by expanding loans in preceding weeks.

Sterling Exchange at New Low.

Sterling exchange touched a new low point at 8.84% for sight drafts, but was much steadier than most of the other European markets. France, for instance, fell 4% to 11.18 to the dollar, and lire went to a new minimum figure. These exchanges recovered slightly.

GRAIN ADVANCE CAUSES RUSH OF SHORT COVERING

Market Finish Weak Due to Pressure of Bear Influences.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

A good advance in grain prices called out a rush of short covering around the highest prices, which was met by extensive selling for profits and lower prices, with the finish weak at about the inside of the day, and with net losses of 1c on the distant futures of corn. White December gained 1c. Oats were 1c lower on July and 3c higher on December. Ryegrass gained 1c to 1c with increased trading and barley was 1c higher to 3c lower at the last.

British influence had a depressing effect at the last. The most important influences were the postponement of the signing of the peace treaty by Germany until after Christmas, a prospective settlement of the coal strike, a lowering of foreign exchange rates, and the devaluation in the hog market at the stockyards.

Corn Market Erratic.

Local traders were on the bear side of corn from the start. While commission houses were fair buyers early, there was heavy selling later that carried prices off sharply, and the close was the low point to 1c above.

Oats were firm early, but broke later when New York reported England was selling grain and that further resales would be made if ocean freights could be canceled.

Closing trades were at the low point, via December at 77c, May at 75c, and July at 75c.

General buying of rye was in evidence from the start and with a lack of offerings early prices advanced 5c to a new high on the present movement.

Prices taking by cash houses and longs made a reaction, and the close was 4c higher. New York bid 75c over December, track there. No. 2 spot sold at 11.40c. Receipts, 19 cars.

Rye advanced 4c to a new high in the crop with spot sales at $1.350. L.M. Elevator interests were the best Women's blouses of flesh-color satin, with deep roll collars and black silk cravats, $8.75.

Net blouses exquisite with fine tucks and fine lace edgings. These are for women, $10.

For women, too, are Georgette crepe blouses in high colors, with wool embroideries, $13.75.

Suit blouses of Georgette crepe, richly embroidered in elaborate designs, are $15.

Crepe de Chine blouses in white, flesh-color or canary are lovely for young girls, $6.75.

Another blouse for misses is in the slip-over mode and of crepe de Chine, also $6.75.

A charming little blouse for misses is of white batiste with a striped Buster Brown collar. It is priced at $3.50.

Then there are the new wool jersey Russian blouses all young girls are certain to want, $18.50.

Fourth Floor, North.

AND having given them first thought, realization of their charming appropriateness as gifts comes quickly on a visit to these blouse sections. For a really distinctive blouse—such as may be chosen here—is so certain to strike a deep responsive chord in any woman's heart that no slightest hesitation need attend upon its selection for a gift.

Here are blouses that run the range from Spartan severity to Victorian frilliness. Blouses in brilliant tones to complement a vivid individuality. Blouses quaint in mode to express a demure personality.

Blouses of Every Charming Fabric Favored This Season, With Every Detail New to the Mode, Especially Assembled in Gift Groups

Particularly lovely are the new net blouses whose daintiness is emphasized by pastel-toned boutonnieres unexpectedly placed on collar edges or high on the yoke. Then there are blouses of Georgette crepe elaborate with worsted embroideries and with entirely new bead motif ornamentation. Price ranges are all-inclusive.

Certain Remarkably Lovely Blouses—*Exquisite Blouses of Black Silk Net

At $16.75 there are blouses of black silk nets heavily embroidered. A banding of French blue ribbon and a wee silken rosebud are placed on the camisole. The effect is charming.

Georgette Crepe Blouses in Vivid Colors

At $18.75, Georgette crepe blouses embroidered in worsted in color combinations highly effective, old blue with navy blue, navy blue with henna, flame-color with black, gray with old blue. A short tasseled plenum is emphasized by a narrow girdle of folded satin. The neckline is the youthful rounded one.

The Loveliest of Net Blouses—All New

At $22.50 and $27.50 there are two truly delightful blouses of net. One has a soft collar, just a succession of crepe tabs embroidered in dots and frilled in lace, $22.50.

The other has a frilled collar caught by a pale pink ribbon. Real filet lace is applied on the net lining, $27.50. Both have the favored short sleeves.

Fourth Floor, North.
